

HEART BALL SUCCESS...

More than 150 supporters of the Heart Association of Palm Beach County turned out Saturday night for the Belle Glade Heart Ball. This year's ball was held at the new Elks Club, using the theme of Mardi Gras.

Guests entered the club through a "Court of Two Sister" setting, decorated with the five flags that flew over New Orleans, and were greeted by one-of-four "French maids" who passed out jeweled masks.

The Mardi Gras and New Orleans theme was carried throughout the decorations, including table reservations marked with the names of streets in New Orleans and music provided by the Tommy Randall orchestra with a dash of jazz. Band members and the vocalist all came from West Palm Beach, except for Fred Rogers, assistant vice president at the Florida First National Bank of Belle Glade.

Chairman of the ball was Mrs. Sam N. Knight. Other chairmen were: Mrs. Eddie Jones, tickets and Mrs. Ercel Mixson, reservations.

Mrs. Jones reported that almost $1,600 was taken in by the event, however, there are still some expenses to be met and at this time it is "hard to figure out" exactly what was made. About 100 tickets were sold.

Mrs. Bill Bailey and Jack Kaufman each won a bottle of champagne, the door prize.

Wooden Bridge May Be Replaced With U.S. Funds

BRIDGE SAFETY QUESTIONED — Narrow width and increased traffic exceeding load limits of this bridge connecting the Belle Glade City Marina to Torry Island with State Road 717 have raised questions which may lead to replacement of the wooden span. The bridge crosses the Rim Canal of Lake Okeechobee and is the only connecting link between Torry Island and the mainland.

A survey of the span over the Rim Canal of Lake Okeechobee has been set off by the county engineer's office over the Okeechobee River at Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., last year.

U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers, D-West Palm Beach, has requested the survey of the 30-year-old wooden bridge that connects State Road 717 from the city Marina on Torry Island from County Engineer George Goodlett.

Recently the State Road Department informed Frost that a check of the structure had been made and "some repair" approved in order to assure the safety of the bridge.

Federal assistance in repairing the bridge was requested by Conley Commissioners E. W. (Bud) Weaver, Lake Harriet, and Rogers. The local limit was originally set at nine tons, although the span is reported to have carried more than four times that weight.

In view of the increase of camping facilities at the municipal facility, and the additional traffic from farming concern on both Torry and Krasmer Islands, Rogers said he plans to take a full report before appearing before a congressional committee in an attempt to obtain necessary funds to construct a new bridge.

Solie (Slim) Corbin, operator of a fish camp on Torry Island, said the pilings under the bridge had been weakened by a heavy storm.

Corbin also acts as the bridge tender when the bridge opens for the tugs.

The mechanism of the span that opens to permit traffic through the waterway, said Corbin, is outdated, however, it has been kept in a safe state of repair possible by the NHD.

Today's wider cars make the bridge with 15 feet a tight squeeze for two cars going opposite directions, Corbin said, and visitors often cause a traffic problem when they meet another vehicle.

Goodlett pointed out, that the Westward approach, it is impossible to see a vehicle enter the other end, because of the arch in the bridge.

Large tractor-trailers pass over the bridge, almost daily, with much more than the posted nine-ton limit, Goodlett said.

Weaver said Monday, that Frost is supposed to have a complete report ready for forwarding to Rogers within the next few weeks.

The sign, attached to the north side of the bridge entrance, is in a position where it cannot be seen by the driver of an approaching truck or heavy equipment.

Pistol Clinic In Second Week

County Solicitor, Marvin Mounts, Jr., was enthusiastic, received by participants in the Jaycees sponsored Self Defense Pistol Training Course, Saturday morning. His presentation emphasized the rights and restrictions of armed self defense, including many points of law about which most were unfamiliar.

Friday night 14 of February, Lake Okeechobee Chapter held their first stated meeting since being reactivated.

Master Councilor, Mike Foster and his officers, put on a initiation ceremony for the first and initiated 9 new candidates.

The candidates were, Bill Phillips, Billy Morris, Paul Anderson, Roland Nelson, Mike Burkett, Stanley Hughes, Doug Wells, Bruce Wells, and Billy Greenstreet.

Mounts, Jr., spoke to the mothers of the boys, Mrs. James L. Pemel and Mrs. T. E. Burgess.

Friday night 16 of February, Lake Okeechobee Chapter held their annual general meeting, and Sharon Kicklighter was crowned as the sweetheart of the year for Lake Okeechobee Demolay Chapter.

Lake Okeechobee Chapter Order of Demolay has just been awarded the Grand Master Award, the highest award given by the engraving of grand master award and date.

This award was given to class that was initiated on Jan. 10 in West Palm Beach and class was named in honor of the District Deputy Grand Master, Don Asper.

Saturday, March 2, the clinic will meet at 10 a.m. at the Police Practice Range, west of Chosen and immediate south of the City Garage.

All participants are to leave their weapons in their automobiles. No spectators will be allowed. Ladies should wear slacks.

Persons missing the opening session may register and participate by being present at this Saturday's clinic.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

Memory Is The Mother Of All Wisdom.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

No Privileged Anarchists

In finally bringing an indictment against five anti-war leaders for conspiring to encourage youths to dodge the draft, the federal government has taken necessary but long overdue action.

The last few years have been marked by a spread of anarchy in the United States. Prominent people, including university professors and church leaders, have given aid and encouragement of the enemies of the United States by saying that the U.S. effort in Vietnam is immoral. Indeed they have gone past such criticism to the point where they have advocated disobedience of the law, the land, specifically the Selective Service Act.

It appears that many of those who have urged law-defiance have assumed that their prominence in education, clerical and artistic circles constituted a badge of privilege that entitles them to exemption from action under the law. It is to be hoped that the recent indictments handed down by a federal grand jury in Boston will make these types realize that no person in this country, no matter how prominent or a celebrity he may be, is entitled to publicly encourage law-breaking.

The shame is that action against advocates of civil disobedience was taken years ago. The roots of the anarchist movement with respect to the Vietnam war began more than a decade ago with the sit-in movement in the South.

People in high places expressed delight that young law-breakers openly responded on the property of other people and violated their rights. Selective law-breaking won approval in "liberal" circles as a manifestation of democracy. The sit-in movement, the anarchist movement was the beginning of the anarchist movement.

Out of the virtual guerrilla war waged against Southern communities developed the cadre of lawbreakers and militant extremists that now trouble the entire nation.

With regard to war protest, the issue should be crystal clear. A citizen has a right to say that he disapproves of U.S. involvement in the war. But he has no right to urge other Americans not to fight for their country. A nation couldn't hold together if anarchists had the right to urge that laws be disobeyed and requirements of citizenship be violated.

Everyone knows what happens to someone who says he won't pay his income taxes: the offender goes to jail. If this happens to the protester against income taxes, then why should the war protester be treated lightly? There is no reason, of course.

But it is clear that the Johnson administration moved with painful slowness before cracking down on the first of those who have urged draft-dodging. It did not want to stir wrath among the self-proclaimed "struggles" against communism and who want to hamper the U.S. effort in Vietnam.

Actually, the federal government has begun only a token prosecution of anti-war anarchists. What seems in order is a nationwide crackdown and trial indictment of ALL those persons who have urged the law of the land by urging draft dodging. One of the oldest of American legal principles is equal application of the law. In this case, it means passing judgment of every law-breaker against whom a legal claim is made.

Anarchism is an insidious business. It is like a cancer that spreads rapidly through a country unless treated effectively with legal and moral surgery. The disease of deliberate law-breaking by supposedly educated people, mainly of those holding positions of influence in the educational work, has to be stamped out or the republic will be in permanent danger from within.

Anarchism is an affront to the American way of life and constitutional system of government. The professor or clergyman who urges young Americans not to serve their country is like an arsonist rushing through the night, setting fire to homes and stores.

The torch of anarchism has to be taken out of the hands of the extremist. The way to do it is by full enforcement of all the laws that forbid conspiracy to engage in law-breaking. Only a tough public stance will wake up those who regard themselves as above the law.

Local Business

By Russell Kay

There may be flying saucers

Ever since the first church bell was installed, advertising has been used to promote religion. And the church bell was a most effective form of advertising in the small village.

As communities outgrew the range of centrally located bells, churches sought new means of reaching their members. The community newspaper has been a principal substitute for the ancient bell for some two centuries.

Some of the promotion of religious ceremonies is paid for by the church, some by the public and information on local religious ceremonies represents a gift from the local newspaper in terms of space to the people. It is a good idea for a worthy cause.

Although we have never met a high regard for the church and other communication media as means for promoting church attendance, the churchmen have been reluctant to call their efforts advertising.

The torch of anarchism has to be taken out of the hands of the extremist. The way to do it is by full enforcement of all the laws that forbid conspiracy to engage in law-breaking. Only a tough public stance will wake up those who regard themselves as above the law.

The Red And Black Beans Are Poisonous

The red and black "beans" commonly found in South Florida woods and roadside contain a deadly poison, (Amanita phalloides), also called "cannibal" or "rosary pea."

The Bureau of Customs reports that travelers in Mexico commonly find in South Florida woods and roadside contain a deadly poison, (Amanita phalloides), also called "cannibal" or "rosary pea."

They are also used as charms and dolls and other toys, and on Haitian "voodoo" swizzle sticks." Customs officials now warn returning travelers about them, but you may have bought some home as souvenirs some time ago. And the beans become more dangerous with age.

Each bean is about 1/4 inch in diameter. A white dot, called the hilum, connects the outer shell with the inner portion, which contains a poison, called Amanita. With age, the drying-out process allows more of this to escape through the hilum.

You should be extremely careful in handling the beans. Their poison can be deadly when it enters the blood stream through any small wound on the skin or if swallowed. Very small amounts can be fatal. Very small amounts can be fatal. Children are especially vulnerable.

Since the plants grow wild here, children often pick them up. They are sometimes used for pea shooters but this is playing "Russian Roulette" since a single pea contains enough poison to kill.

Children occasionally eat low-rosary pea whole. The pea can pass through with the seed coat intact and not affect the child. But if the seed softens or cracks, the deadly poison is released.

Personal, Mister Editor, 12 months in about all I can stand for one fiscal year.

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Ed Danvers told the fellers at the country store Saturday night he had worked out a new plan of operations for the Great Society.

Ed said we had ought to go to a 13-month year, that the idea everybody had the same amount of time as old-fashioned as the pay-as-you-go system. He claimed time ain't spread around equal no more and we got to give everything equal the Great Society.

For instant, he said his daughter that lives in the city figgers how many minutes she was away from her job, not how many miles. Every time a faster airplane is made or every time a new ladder gadget is made that does the job quicker, Ed allowed, somebody was getting longer on time and somebody was getting on the short end of the time deal. After going to all this business of the mini-weeks and mini-months, Ed was like the middle of the summer to work out vibrations after and another right before Christmas and call it a short ping-pong bonus. And everybody, claimed Ed, would be tickled to have a extra week to work on them instead of tax form.

First off, he said we wouldn't have to worry none about where the extra month was coming from, that we could handle it like the Government budget and borrow it off the next century and let the young ones tomorrow worry about running short on years. He figured we could add a extra week at special times in the year like the middle of the summer to work out vibrations after and another right before Christmas and call it a short ping-pong bonus. And everybody, claimed Ed, would be tickled to have a extra week to work on them instead of tax form.

Zebek Gross come out strong for Ed's 13-month plan. He said everybody would have fewer birthdays and they would think they was living longer. But Bug Hookem had some doubts about Ed's plan. He said the Government would say official it would give the people, more time to enjoy the good life, but actual it would amount to giving the Government a extra month's worth of taxes.

The fellers was just getting warmed up to the debate, Miser Ed got in one more word. He said he didn't have but one Sunday in the week to rest up and unless Ed could come up with a extra Sunday in the week without losing a day's business, us fellers had better table the discussion so he could git some sleep. But Ed got in one more word. He said that was exact what he had been talking about. Us fellers had all the time and the storekeeper didn't have none. He was in favor of writing out six Sundays into his extra-month bill. Zeke Grubb said he would vote for it but he was shore his preacher would be dead agin this amendment.

Personal, Mister Editor, 12 months in about all I can stand for one fiscal year.

Yours truly,

Uncle Dan

THE DEEP END

By TOM HIRAH

THE DEEP END

The increasing labor difficulties throughout the United States have prompted me to suggest that colleges in the future offer courses in sign painting and picketing. It seems that regardless of what occupation you choose, at some time in the future, if the trend continues, you will be called upon to picket for something, even if you don't know what you're picketing for.

We could speculate on the fate of the nation if everyone decided to strike, it would be most interesting to see the entire population occupying empty buildings. Perhaps the signs would just say "We want more" or "You can't do that to us." Of course there would be fights and arguments among the pickets because they would each want the last say on the wording of the signs.

Can you imagine if everyone struck how their standard of living would be affected, the many benefits they would derive from呼吸ing the fresh air. For the sake of simplicity they could all merge into a super duper union and call themselves "The United Federation of People." There would be no more worries about management taking advantage of them, because they would be no management.

The thought of this colossal group of pickets leads to the possibility that it might catch on in other countries and the entire world population could merge into "The United Federation Of People Of The World." I am almost breathless when I think of that picket line extending from the North Pole to the South Pole with signs in all languages.

The only thought that really bothers me about the whole premise is that I'd kinda hate to find pickets if I happen to make it to the Pearly Gates of Heaven.

Letter To The Editor

Teacher Walk-Out

Editor:

It would appear that teachers have justification for walk-outs. The teachers, with paper work handed down by the higher echelon, many have to suffer day after day with discipline problems with children, support from their principals, who can hardly be blamed.

With their dial to the news, the little green men learn that on earth hospitals are so crowded they are putting patients in the aisles. There is an acute shortage of nurses and doctors, and patients are compelled to wait hours to see a doctor or even a hospital room.

Governments cognizant of the situation are trying to alleviate it by providing health and accident insurance. They call it medicare and propose to fund it from the backs of the poor and elderly.

With their fuses assured the doctors are going to town collecting and encouraging patients to take every conceivable test at plenty of test to learn the actual condition of their health. There aren't enough laboratories, and the laboratories called for and bureaus called for are breaking down around their ears.

They would report that contagious disease and suffering was widespread, and the organizations were engaged in collecting money for research to find and cure a cure for everything from earache to birth defects.

The only difference between the teachers and the patients is that the teachers have to work day after day, and the patients have to wait for a doctor or a hospital room.

They would report that sickening disease and suffering was widespread, and the organizations were engaged in collecting money for research to find and cure a cure for everything from earache to birth defects.

Although the market seems to be flooded with reliable remedies aid and relieve suffering, the increased volume of goods returning travelers about them, but you may have bought some home as souvenirs some time ago. And the beans become more dangerous with age.

As if there were not enough trouble in the world, we now contend with, they recently invented a new one which they call the "Blah." It apparently is designed for people who haven't been able to place a finger on just what is the matter.

Four Actors To Star
In Playhouse Comedy

Broadway's most prolific and successful producer, David Merrick, has another play warming up in the bullpen and in this case the bullpen is Frank J. Hale's Playhouse in Palm Beach.

The play is John Tobias' comedy "Is the Real You Really You?" and it will premiere at Mr. Hale's Playhouse on Monday, March 4th. The four actors starring in the production are Richard Schaal, Louise Lasser, William Dwyer and Judy Frank. Richard Ahman has the directorial chair.

Rionda Is Leading Player

One of the leading basketball players of this year is 6-foot-4, 175-pound Henry Rionda. Henry, a senior, has played basketball one year on the Junior Varsity team and two years on the Varsity team.

Henry has had a very successful season in scoring. His average score is fourteen points per game. He plays forward on first string Varsity.

Henry is a good basketball player. He is a good and enjoys playing it and baseball more than any other sports. He likes to be in the action and believe he is. Wherever there is action and fun, during the game, you will find Henry in the middle of it all.

After graduation, Henry plans to attend Indian River Junior College. Henry has a definite desire to play basketball in college, but if he is not in college, he is certain there will be time for basketball.

Self Destruction

The animals roamed free. Men hunted without fear of restriction. The sky was bright above. The wind blew evenly upon all.

Then the white man came, and with him brought his "wisdom".

He chopped down trees, and destroyed a forest.

He killed without care, and made extinct the buffalo. And then he saw the red man as evil.

And put him on a reservation.

Today we are also putting men in cages,

And making prisons of their minds.

We make every man equal, by oppressing them all.

We destroy men,

By taking their self respect.

We destroy ourselves,

By believing the lies of the masses.

It took power to build America. And to make it great.

It will take strength.

To keep it that way.

Our greatest decision is who to make our leader.

For he can lead us to freedom.

Or condemn us to slavery.

Movie Review

One of the outstanding Walt Disney movies of the year is "The Happiest Millionaire".

The story is that of two young people from wealthy families who fall in love and want to be married.

Little Ann Warren does a difficult job playing a child who grows into a very charming woman. John Davidon makes his movie debut and does an excellent job in his first role. Not only are his performances good, he proves to be one of the promising young actors of the present and future.

The girl's father, Fred McCloud, is a retired class in the recession room of a mansion. He has always protected his daughter from boys until John Davidson steps in to change masters.

McCloud is played by Green Garrison in an understanding type, who believes in her husband, and takes up for her children and their beliefs.

Tommy Steele plays the part of a man who is not only single but brings peace and happiness back to the house, after an upsetting incident.

On the whole, the entire movie is light, gay and humorous. The whole family would enjoy seeing Walt Disney's newest and most thrilling comedy.

The Happiest Millionaire.

It's A Fact

Clapping their hands and stamping their feet, the band played "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star" at their band concert, which was held in the gym, Feb. 20th.

The band was led by Band Director Frederick Stevens.

Another number played by the band was "How Lucky" which featured the flute section. Junior High Band Director Robert O. "Lollipop" Williams.

The band was present in the fourth section, Human High Band Director Robert O. "Lollipop" Williams.

Due to the school crisis there was some doubt as to whether the concert would be held. Therefore an unusually small crowd was present for the performance.

CLUB NEWS

The Student Council painted the "Go Rams Go" on the hall wall near the band room.

The council members collected money for the Florida Bible College which put on an assembly on Feb. 9th.

Problem Walls

Problem walls areas are found in the kitchen, bathroom and children's playroom. They're easier to keep clean if you give them a coat of paint with a gloss enamel, oil base or handily new water-base, which ever you choose.

Communism In America

The average American is not aware of how closely Communism affects him. He does not suspect that Communists are infiltrating groups and organizations very near to him. He regards the right of Communists-dominated foreign countries, and remarks, "This could never happen in the United States".

Why not? Have we become so stupid that we can't feel nothing can touch us? If so, it's time to take a closer look at the issues.

Flourishing within the United States there exists an intricate branch of the Communist Party. Many members of the party are scattered throughout our country. They infiltrate clubs, unions, and other organizations.

Their influence is even seen in the government. Communists also capitalize on controversial issues and thus draw membership from unsuspecting protest groups.

Some Americans become Communists simply because they believe in the Communist system. An elevated view of the Communist way of life has been introduced to them through distorted accounts & propaganda.

Communism seizes any opportunity to put its tactics into action. Many American citizens are unknowingly being drawn into the Communist trap.

Ignorance of the problem only provides additional time and encouragement for the Communist system's development. Obviously, Communism is a threat to the patriotic American and every citizen should be well informed on the issues surrounding it.

It seems that the band concert was a blast, but Carol W. forgot her black handkerchief so what did she use? Just B.P. because it's good.

Again, G. was fishing during her spring vacation. D. and Carol R. were at the beach with their son and daughter. They had a nice quiet evening at home eating them... alone!

It seems that some girls are wearing black flowers painted on them. What about it? Estella, Jackie and Alice?

We hear that Kathryn S. and some other kids were playing "Mother May I"??

Chip Kaufman — It's a nice thing.

Gail Dell — I don't think it is fair to the students.

Ricky Henderson — I love

Joanne Harris — I think someone should do something about it.

Jimmy Baker — It's an unequal example of extreme hi poverty.

Jorge Blanco — It's the greatest thing that ever happened at Belle Glade High.

Johnny Blakely — It is all right, it's a vacation.

Gilberto Alvarez — Well, Mr. Browning is not here!

Carol Bettis — I think we all should walkout.

Bruce Baughman — It's good.

Mr. Mayberry — No comment.

Maria Iglesias — It is important for our education.

James Ayres — The teachers should stick to their contract.

Then after it has expired, they should complain.

Ronnie Cooper — I think they should walkout. The teachers have to get a raise in salary somehow.

are now writing a girl in Orlando or is this another lie?

A number of car thefts have broken out right after play practice. It's rumored that Jean J. and Debbie B. would know.

Sandy B. we hear all the doors you can imagine are broken by them.

Is this true? May be even bedroom doors????

Regardless of which type of music is more beneficial, it is clear that it will continue to be the main source of entertainment to teenagers. It is likely that classical music will ever become overly popular with the younger generation. Classical music remains a classic, while rock music is more popular.

Popular music has a more modern sound and its lyrics express the thoughts, ideas, and opinions of those who listen to it.

However, there is little variation in them.

Many critics have capitalized on this fact as a basis for their rejection of popular music.

Regardless of which type of music is more beneficial, it is clear that it will continue to be the main source of entertainment to teenagers. It is likely that classical music will ever become overly popular with the younger generation. Classical music remains a classic, while rock music is more popular.

Classical music is a more artistic form of music.

Rock music is more popular.

It is more popular with teenagers.
